ALLEGHANY JURY DOES GOOD WORK

Goes Into Details and Secures Many Increases in Property Assessments.

In investigating the tax returns, the grand jury of Alleghany County has gone into details, and has done specific work. This being just what was wanted, and for the reason that the grand jury really examined the tax books and had citizens before it. In some instances the value of household goods was raised in others, in others the value of land was raised, in others the value of property was raised. The jury examined only Covington District, and the complete that it expired with the term of the court, and it is intended to take the matter up again at the January term. Other districts in the county are to be looked into.

Localities are the gainers by increased returns on property. The Alleghany jury reported that most of the failures to give in property, were due to lack of information regarding the law.

SCALDED BY STEAM

Pipe Aboard Branded Burns, Badly Burning Second Officer Haynie.

E. T. Haynie, second officer of the steamer, of the Old Dominion Steamship Company, was badly burned yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock when a steam pipe in the engine room burst, which was lying at the dock here. He was scalded about the head and shoulders, and an emergency call was sent for the city ambulance. Dr. H. H. Haynie responded and treated Mr. Haynie. The burned man declined to be removed to a hospital, but left with his wife last night on her regular trip for Norfolk, where he will enter St. Vincent's Hospital and remain until he recovers.

Charge Shooting in Street. L. Minter was arrested last night by Sergeant Sherry and Patrolmen Pritchard and Crump on a warrant sworn out by a justice charging him with firing a revolver near his home in Pleasant Street. Minter is said to have fired but one shot. No one was injured.

Your Druggist Stops That Itch

If you are suffering from Eczema, Psoriasis or any other kind of skin trouble, drop into our store for instant relief. We will guarantee you to stop that itch in two seconds.

We have sold other remedies for skin troubles, but none that we could recommend as highly as this. A mild wash of Dr. Ointment, Thymol and a few other ingredients that have wrought such wonderful cures all over the country.

This compound is known as D. D. D.

Prescription for Eczema, and it will cool and heal the itchy, burning skin as nothing else can.

A 50c bottle will prove it.

Of course all other druggists have D. D. D.

Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store we are so certain of what D. D. D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee: If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE it costs you not a cent.

COMPANY D WINS ENDURANCE MARCH

Hikes to Petersburg in 5:14. Taking Forty Minutes Off Record.

OTHER SQUADS DISQUALIFIED

One Member Each of Companies A and B Fall Out and Lose Race.

One man from each of the competing squads of Companies A and B falling out from exhaustion of illness, Company D was an easy winner of the annual hike of the Richmond Light Infantry to Petersburg yesterday.

But the cup given as a reward for the winning team in the endurance test was not earned by the successful squad. It topped a full forty minutes from the best previous record, making the entire distance of twenty-three miles from the armory at Main and Marshall streets in this city, to the south end of the bridge over the Appomattox River in Petersburg, in five hours and fourteen minutes. Even had either or both the other teams been able to finish, it is doubtful if they could have defeated Company D with such time to its credit. The squad kept up its best efforts throughout, since it could not know of the mishap that happened to its competitors, as it started first and was ahead throughout.

A Company Loses Best Chance.

The disappointment to Company A is bitter. For two successive years—in 1910 and 1911—it has been the winner in the march, and had it made the best time this year, the cup would have become its permanent property, as an earned ornament to the company room. Now it will take three years to get it back, if it can be done at all. Company D must win two more successive victories to own the trophy.

Corporal A. H. Warr, of Company A, became ill within five miles of Petersburg, being attacked with violent convulsions. It was evident that he had been seized with cramp, perhaps because of an unwholesome meal. His fellow-members of the squad worked over him for some time, hoping to restore him so that he could finish. Corporal Warr manfully tried to conquer his inhumanity, but in vain. It became necessary to summon an automobile, and the corporal, with his comrades, was taken on to Petersburg. The dropping out of the man, under the rules, disqualified the whole squad, and A Company was a definite loser. Both in 1910 and 1911 Corporal Warr has made the hike, being thoroughly game and finishing without physical discomfort.

B Also Has Mishap.

While the team was working over the stricken corporal, it was passed by the squad of Company B, which had started last, on the double quick. The boys were in good spirits, but had proceeded only a mile and a half further when Private Albert C. Word, a brother of the battalion's crack football player, became ill and, like the man in Company A, could proceed no further. He was also taken to Petersburg.

Major E. W. Bowles went to the Cockade City by automobile, and saw to it that the two sick men were made comfortable and had the best attention. Before he left last night to return to this city, both were practically recovered, and no serious result is anticipated.

In the meantime, the victorious D

Company squad finished its hike and fell into the arms of the waiting Blues who had gone over by train, trolley car, automobile and aeroplane. A justification was held last night.

Details of March.

Lots were drawn for the order in which the squads should leave the armory. Company D winning first choice and taking the first round, since it is to the advantage of the "first out" in getting more daylight. Company D's squad left the armory at 1 o'clock. Company B had won second place, but was not quite ready at 1:30, and Company A went out instead. B Company following at 2 o'clock.

Each man carried a blanket roll, containing blanket, poncho, half a canteen, tent, pole and pins. Each took his rifle, with bayonet, web belt, webbing, canteen and haversack, the latter containing a knife, fork, spoon and mess can. In other words, the men were in heavy marching order.

At the finish all eight men of the squad were required to be not more than two yards apart, or fourteen yards between the first man and the last.

Personnel of Squad.

The victorious squad of Company D was composed as follows: First Lieutenant William Crump Tucker, Sergeant Ernest E. Allen, Corporal William W. Crump, Private Fred A. Valentine, Private Evans Lindsay, Private Payson R. Bruce, Private James French Strother, Private William L. Blamhain.

Company A's squad was composed of the following men: Corporal A. H. Warr, Corporal J. T. Houston, Private Lewis Walker, Private Thomas Grant Walker, Private Oscar F. Lohmann, Private Thomas Russell Goetz, Private Leo B. Mulholland, Private Maurice J. Sweeney.

Following was the personnel of Company B's squad: Corporal John B. Cary, Private Denny D. Wright, Private J. Temple Waudlin, Private Orlan D. Deane, Private Albert C. Word, Private Aubin E. Parker, Private Carter E. Talmage, Private Harry D. Quarles.

Company C had no squad in this year's hike.

Arrangements for Next Year.

Chief Quartermaster Hester, who was in charge of the hike, will be that of Fred Arrington, of Halifax County, who was found missing several months ago by search, and who was reported to have been killed. He was captured at the time in the Times-Dispatch, Arrington's relatives claim that a great deal of money was paid for his release, and he was taken through two or three generations.

Richmond, Va. B. C. Richardson, clerk to the police department, yesterday before Judge J. A. Hester, who was in charge of the hike, was taken through two or three generations.

UNVEIL PORTRAIT TO HONOR FOUNDER

Home for Incurables to Receive Oil Painting of Miss Mary Greenhow.

GOVERNOR TO MAKE ADDRESS

Will Present Portrait for Branch R. Allen Auxiliary, the Donors.

Plans for an important event at the Virginia Home for Incurables, under way for some time, blossomed forth yesterday in an announcement by the directors that the home will next Friday unveil with appropriate exercises a portrait of Miss Mary Greenhow, the founder of the institution.

To those who have watched the home grow from modest proportions to the admirable plant which it owns today, the event is of special significance. The story of the founding of the institution by Miss Greenhow has never yet been written, and is known to few outside the circle who have the home in charge. To recount that story and to receive at the hands of the Branch R. Allen Auxiliary a finely done portrait of the founder, will be the purpose of next Friday's exercises.

Address by Governor Mann.

Governor Mann will present the portrait to the home, Mayor Ainslie will accept it for the city of Richmond, and for the board of directors of the institution. The exercises will take place between 4 o'clock and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be a special musical program, and Miss Lulu Johnson will release the veil.

Officers of the Virginia Home for Incurables are especially anxious for a liberal attendance from the general public, particularly because of the generous response with which it met the appeal of the institution on Donation Day. A committee will meet all visitors to show them over the plant.

The portrait of Miss Greenhow was painted by John P. Walker, a Richmond artist, whose work has received high praise from the critics. The portrait is said to be a particularly good likeness and well executed.

"The Peril of Character."

Rev. E. Pearce Atkins, pastor of Allen Avenue Christian Church, who leaves Richmond December 1st to take charge of a large church in Birmingham, Ala., will speak at the Central Young Men's Christian Association, Grace and Seventh streets, this afternoon at 7:30 o'clock, speaking on "The Peril of Character." Young men, whether members of the association or not, are cordially invited to hear this message.

Court Convened Monday.

The November term of the City Circuit Court will convene Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Judge R. Carter Scott will preside at this term. The docket will be called promptly at 10 o'clock, and cases set for trial. The prospects are for a heavy docket.

Bakery for School Board.

When the Board of Aldermen and the Common Council meet Monday night in joint session for the election of a school trustee to succeed Charles Hester, the name of Dr. Charles R. Robins will be presented for consideration. If other names are to be offered so word to that effect has leaked out.

Evangelistic Meetings.

Dr. David Francis, pastor of Third Christian Church, will continue during the evening week the special evangelistic meetings. Services will be held every evening, when special music will be rendered.

Miss Hawkins Better.

Miss Blanche Hawkins, operated on last Friday in Memorial Hospital for appendicitis by Dr. Charles R. Robins, has been discharged from the hospital and is at her home, 286 East Grace Street.

Boy Who Stole Watch.

Nellie Brooks, colored, was arrested last night by Bicycle Policeman Hart on the charge of stealing a gold watch, valued at $20, from John R. Moore, a white man.

New Inspector Qualifies.

Marcelus E. Wright, the engineer who is slated to succeed Building Inspector Hester P. Beck, appeared before Ben T. August, City Clerk, yesterday and qualified as a deputy building inspector.

STATE OFFICIALS GO HOME TO VOTE

General Departure From Capitol to Cast Ballots in General Election.

YOUTH CONFESSES TO ARSON

Is Sent to Reformatory—Lawyers Ask Mercy for Condemned Prisoner.

General election day in November always spells an exodus of State officers and employees to their homes, in order to cast their votes. It is safe to say that every person employed in the Capitol save those who would have come under the provisions of that statute's suffrage amendment to the Constitution, which barred of subordination last year, will register his ballot next Tuesday.

All of the offices will be closed, under the law. No official business is transacted on the day the people of the country choose who shall be President, some officials have already gone to their homes.

Governor Mann and his assistant secretary, L. B. Hardy, vote at Nottingham Courthouse, while Secretary Ben P. Owen cannot forsake dear old Swansboro Precinct. Judge R. K. Prentiss, chairman of the State Corporation Commission, is a citizen of Suffolk, Commissioner William F. Rhea votes in Bristol, within a few feet of the Tennessee line, and Commissioner J. Richard Wingfield marks his ticket in Albemarle County. Clerk R. T. Wilson need not leave Richmond to vote, nor need Secretary of the Commonwealth B. O. James, Chief Clerk J. M. Hayes, Jr., Public Printer Davis Bottom, State Health Commissioner Eunice D. Williams, Highway Commissioner P. St. John Wilson, Clerk H. Stewart Jones, of the Supreme Court or Labor Commissioner James B. Doherty.

John W. Williams, clerk of the House of Delegates, votes in Giles County; Insurance Commissioner Joseph Button in Appomattox, Deputy Insurance Commissioner J. N. Brown in Staunton; Superintendent of Public Instruction J. D. Eggleston, Jr., in Prince Edward, Secretary R. C. Stearnes, of the State Board of Education, in Roanoke County; State Treasurer Asher W. Harman in Rockbridge, Auditor of the State, C. C. Moore in Alexandria, Chief Clerk to the Auditor E. L. C. Scott in Hanover, Second Auditor Rosewell Page in Rianover, Dairy and Food Commissioner W. D. Saunders in Franklin, Deputy Commissioner B. L. Purcell in Henrico, Adjutant-General W. W. Sale in Norfolk, Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams in Wythe, Assistant Attorney-General R. B. Davis in Petersburg, and State Librarian H. R. McIlwaine in Prince Edward.

Last, but not least, "Long Tom" Hester, the Capitol policeman, left last night for Dickenson County to exercise the rights, duties and privileges of citizenship.

CONFESSES ARSON

Colored Youth Goes to Reformatory for Crime in Orange.

Daniel Hester, a colored youth, who was arrested a few days ago on evidence gathered by a detective of the Bureau of Insurance, on a charge of robbing and setting fire to the residence of M. B. Cowherd, Jr., near Gordonsville, has been sent to the Reformatory at Hanover, to be kept until he is of age. Hester was given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Perry, at Orange. The Commonwealth's attorney was present and concurred in the judgment of the justice of the peace.

Insurance Commissioner Button is also informed that Albert Moten, who was implicated in Hester's case, has been released. Moten was found at Hayne de Grace, Md., and brought back to Orange. Then Hester admitted that he robbed the dwelling and set fire to it in order to cover up his theft.

Will Ask for Clemency.

Attorneys for Herbert Peyton, who was convicted of murder in King George County and sentenced to the electric chair, yesterday wired Governor Mann asking for an interview with the intention of applying for clemency. Secretary Owen answered that the executive will be in his office Monday or Wednesday next.

Labor Cases Postponed.

Commissioner James B. Doherty was notified yesterday by his inspector, J. B. Clinedinst, that the cases for violation of the ten-hour law, set for a hearing in Norfolk, have been postponed for ten days.

Military Orders.

Colonel M. L. Spotswood, who in 1889 was commander of the First Virginia Infantry, was yesterday, by order of the Adjutant-General, placed on the retired list of the Virginia Volunteers.

A commission was issued yesterday to W. W. La Prade, to be adjutant of the First Battalion, Field Artillery. His appointment was announced some time ago to succeed Captain Jennings C. Wise, and he has since passed his examination.

First Lieutenant R. S. Pifer.

Company M, First Infantry, of Danville, has resigned his commission, and it was accepted yesterday.

CAUGHT IN SCHENECTADY

Thomas C. Mann, twenty-three years old, a machinist, was arrested yesterday in Schenectady, N. Y., at the request of the local police. He is wanted here on a gravely charged, being alleged that he induced a girl, Daisy Burns, alias Daisy Seers, nineteen years old, to come to this city from Fairport, N. Y., and to marry him.

He had promised to marry her, but instead required her to give him various sums of money, and he is finally said to have taken her to Schenectady and married her.

He wrote her from Schenectady, stating that he was ill and wished her to come to him immediately. Instead she turned over to Detective-Sergeants Wiley and Kellam and caused a warrant for him to be issued.

The grand jury will be asked to indict Mann when it meets to-morrow, after which Sergeant Wiley will leave for Schenectady with registration papers for the prisoner.

Arrested for Shooting a Woman. Jack Roane, colored, was arrested last night on a warrant charging him with shooting at Ellen Robertson, also colored, at Seventeenth Street and Rock Alley. The two men are said to have quarreled as a result of an argument over their strength, and Roane is alleged to have ended it by drawing a gun and firing upon Robertson. His aim was poor, and Robertson escaped injury.

Boy Who Had Gun.

Richard Johnson, colored, was arrested yesterday by Patrolmen Moore and Hill on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Old-Fashioned Orthodox Circus, With Many New Features.

Twenty thousand people saw the Ringling Brothers circus yesterday, two performances being given before audiences almost taxing the capacity of the great canvas. Combining all that was orthodox in circus entertainment with several really new features, and showing some of the best trained animals ever exhibited here, the circus gave Richmond a good impression of the big Western show, which was here on its first visit. Late in arriving, thousands stood in Broad Street for hours waiting a parade that fully came up to expectations. There were the big fat horses—hundreds of the elephants—the bands—the ponies—the elephants, and the steam piano—all that custom requires in a circus parade—and there were in addition teams of trained camels hitched four abreast to a great coach, and a graceful little four-in-hand span of zebras, said to be the only one of its kind.

The show in the big tent was satisfactory. The spectacle of Joan of Arc gave an opportunity for a grand stage of any theatre, and King Charles VII. was later crowned in the presence of as many ballet dancers as ever graced a French court.

Getaway Day.

But the feature of yesterday was that it was "getaway day." The circus season, which has lasted since early April, closed with yesterday's performance. The animals, horses, tents and equipment which have been on the road for the past seven months, will be shipped to-day to the Wisconsin home of the Ringling Brothers. Two special trains leave early this morning, one to New York over the R. F. & P., and one to Chicago over the Chesapeake and Ohio. Both roads and ticket offices on the grounds yesterday. Acrobats, performers, ballet dancers, and all of the army of men and women who go to make up a really great circus, were busy checking their baggage to all parts of the globe direct from the grounds. Ten percent of the pay of all laborers attached to the big show has been held back throughout the season to insure compliance with contract, and the pay was a busy place last night after the final performance. Most of the animal men will go with their charges to the winter quarters, where new tricks will be taught before the circus takes the road again. Some of the performers have already contracted to be ready to go out again early next April.

"Getaway night" made a spectacular scene at the commissary and supply tents, where 600 people were seated at the tables at one time, and where three relays were needed to feed all the attaches of the show. Three tons of fresh meat were purchased in the Richmond markets yesterday, to say nothing of several wagonloads of bread, a carload of hay and another of grain. Before the final performance had closed, workers were busy waiting in the cages of animals, which might otherwise suffer from the cold in their four-day journey home. By daylight to-day not a vestige will remain, for the circus extracts every stake and takes off the field every trace of its appearance.

Richmond liked the Ringlings and the Ringlings liked Richmond and will come here again next season.

BOTH ACQUITTED

McDonald and Smith Freed from Bank.

The case against David McDonald and Robert Smith, the youths indicted for attempting to blow up the residence of Jacob Cohn, 11 South Adams Street, was tabled yesterday in the Hustings Court. McDonald, however, was required to furnish a bond of $100 for his good behavior for twelve months.

It developed that the charge against the boys was not as grave as was at first supposed.
